CJLA Point System

1. Under the California Junior Livestock Association, divisions have been set up as follows for Beef (steer and heifer), Sheep, Swine, and Goats for members to earn points toward year-end awards. Membership fees are $40.00 per Division and must be paid before points can be awarded to an exhibitor. Exhibitors will not accumulate prior points at shows during a CJLA year when they are not active members. All annual membership fees are due and payable by March 31st of the current year. Dues must be paid prior to first show in order to receive points for that show. Membership will begin when a completed membership form and payment is received by the CJLA. If payment is not received with application, or payment does not clear the bank, membership will not be activated and points will not begin to be accumulated until valid payment is received. In addition, valid payment must be received by March 31st or membership will be denied. No exceptions will be made to this rule. The CJLA will be giving year-end awards to CJLA members who accumulate the greatest number of points in a given year in each Division (Steer, Heifer, Lamb, Hog, Goat). (See Rule #3).
2. The CJLA show year will be from January 1 through December 31st of a current year.
3. The age requirements for CJLA membership is 9 through 19 for Steer, Lamb, Hog, and Goat exhibitors. (Must be 9 years old on January 1 of current year / age on January 1st determines age for entire year). The age requirement for CJLA membership for Heifer exhibitors is 9 through 21. (Refer to Rule #2 for CJLA year).
4. Categories to be offered under the CJLA are as follows:

CALIFORNIA SHOW CATTLE ASSOCIATION (CSCA)

Steer Divisions: English, Black/Black X, All Other Colors. Note: The English steer division combines Angus, Hereford, & Shorthorn steers. These steers must be purebred and eligible for registration according to those breed associations. CJLA members showing in the English steer division are not required to join the California Junior Breed Association in addition to the CJLA in order to earn points in that division.

Heifer Division: To compete in the CJLA heifer division, heifers MUST be registered. CJLA does not offer a division for grade/unregistered heifers. Heifer divisions are as follows: Hereford (Polled & Horned combined), Angus, Shorthorn, Maine-Anjou (includes Maintainers), Limousin (includes LimFlex), Charolais, All Other Breeds. Each member of the CJLA entered in the Heifer Division must also be a current paid member of the CALIFORNIA Junior Breed Association (breed association dues to be paid by March 31st of current year) of the animal(s) they are exhibiting and show proof of registration in exhibitors name on said animals. If the CALIFORNIA Junior Breed Association membership requirement is not met, points earned will fall into the All Other Breeds division. Heifer exhibitors are encouraged to join the California Junior Breed Association of the cattle breed they own and are exhibiting in order to give further recognition to their projects as well as the breed they have chosen to raise. Exhibitors also have the opportunity to earn additional awards sponsored by those breed associations. NOTE: Shorthorn plus, Composite Charolais, Red Angus, and all registered heifers not falling into a purebred division listed above, will earn points in the AOB division.

*New for 2010: CJLA heifer division members have until May 1st to verify with CJLA that your Assn. membership has been activated & your points are being applied in the correct breed division. After this date your points will remain in the AOB division for the current year.

CALIFORNIA SHOW LAMB ASSOCIATION (CSLA)

Division: Will be divided according to age of exhibitor (9-12), (13-15), (16-19). Age at beginning of current year will determine category.

CALIFORNIA SHOW HOG ASSOCIATION (CSHA)

Division: Will be divided according to age of exhibitor (9-12), (13-15), (16-19). Age at beginning of current year will determine category.

CALIFORNIA SHOW GOAT ASSOCIATION (CSGA)

Division: Will be divided according to age of exhibitor (9-12), (13-15), (16-19). Age at beginning of current year will determine category.

5. All exhibitors have the option to attend any number of shows. However, only points earned at top eight shows attended will count toward year-end totals. If exhibitor attends and places at more than eight shows in the given year, lowest show points will be dropped with the top eight shows counting for year-end totals. Points will be awarded to each CJLA member in the following manner.

Sheep, Hogs, Goats: Points will be awarded on top two placing animals at each show. (Exhibitor may show as many animals as desired at any given show - however, only the top two placings will be counted.) These points earned will go toward year-end totals in each age division as well as the overall placings in each specie. Showmanship points are not figured into year-end totals or overall placings, but will be totaled as separate award divisions by exhibitor age.

Steers, Heifers: CJLA members may exhibit in as many breed or color divisions as desired in which those requirements have been met and will earn points in these individual divisions for year-end awards. Points from top two placings in each of the breed or color divisions will count for division points per show. However, only your top two placings overall per show will count toward the overall winner placings in the steer and heifer division. Points earned at sanctioned breed field days will only count in their respective heifer breed divisions but will not be counted in the overall year-end totals. Showmanship points are not figured into year-end totals or overall placings but will be totaled as separate award divisions by exhibitor age. Showmanship placings from breed association fielddays are not included in CJLA showmanship division placings.

6. In the case of a tie in any division (except showmanship), the tie will be broken by the number of CJLA sanctioned shows attended where any points have been earned in that division. If there is still a tie, the exhibitors' showmanship points (in same specie) will be determined as the final tie-breaker.

If there is a tie in any showmanship division, the tie will be broken by the number of CJLA shows attended where any points have been earned in showmanship (in same specie). If there is still a tie, the number of overall division points (in same specie) will be used to determine the final tie-breaker.

7. Points shall be earned on the following basis for all divisions and showmanship:

CLASS PLACING:	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th
POINTS EARNED:	40	35	30	25	20	15	10	5

8. Bonus Points

All Division Champions (Steer, Lamb, Hog, Goat) will receive 5 bonus points and the Reserve Division Champions will receive 3 bonus points. The Overall Prospect Champion, Progress Champion, and Market Champion in the Steer, Lamb, Hog, and Goat Categories will each receive 5 bonus points and Reserve Champions will each receive 3 bonus points. No additional points will be awarded for overall Supreme Champion or overall reserve Supreme Champion. Likewise, in the Heifer Category each Age Division Champion and each overall Breed/Division Champion will each receive 5 bonus points. Each Reserve Age Division Champion and each Overall Reserve

Breed/Division Champion will each receive 3 bonus points. No additional points will be awarded for overall Supreme Champion or overall reserve Supreme Champion. (Division points will only be awarded based on show results when specified as such on said results).

9. All animals must be owned and exhibited by the exhibitor. Heifers must be registered in the exhibitors name. Registration papers will be checked and verified by CJLA sanctioned show management. In order to receive points for a Heifer Breed Division, the exhibitor must also be a member of that breeds California Junior Association. If the exhibitor is not a member of the California Junior Association of the breed they are exhibiting, then those points earned will fall into the All Other Breeds Division. Breed Association dues must be paid by March 31st of current year.
- 9a. In order to receive points at any sanctioned CJLA show, the CJLA member MUST be in attendance and exhibit their own animals in class. The only exception to this is when an exhibitor has more than one entry in a class, then another junior exhibitor is allowed to show those additional class entries. CJLA sanctioned shows should enforce this rule and report any variances to CJLA. Sanctioned shows MUST report to the CJLA if they have allowed animals to be exhibited for someone who is not in attendance.
10. Year-end Showmanship awards will be given in the Junior, Intermediate and Senior Divisions: (Beef - Steer & Heifer Combined, Lamb, Hog, & Goat) with points to count from general showmanship classes (not breed showmanship classes). Points to be calculated according to above point chart with points earned at top eight shows to count toward year-end totals. Age breakdown for Showmanship Divisions are as follows: 9 - 12, 13 - 15, 16 - 19 (21 if showing heifers) . (Note: Your age as of January 1st of current year will determine your age group for the entire show year). Note Rule Pertaining to Beef Showmanship - this affects those members who have paid fees for both the heifer and steer divisions and exhibit in both those divisions at CJLA sanctioned shows. At any show that offers both heifer and steer showmanship classes and exhibitors enter both contests, then the highest single placing will be counted for showmanship points for that show. Gradelunregistered heifers shown in a CJLA showmanship contest will not earn points because the animal shown is not eligible for a CJLA division.
If a steer division member exhibits a heifer in either beef showmanship or heifer showmanship, those points will not count because they not a heifer division member. Likewise, if a heifer division member exhibits a steer in either beef showmanship or steer showmanship, those points will not count because they are not a steer division member.
- 10a. In order for a CJLA member to exhibit and earn points in a sanctioned CJLA showmanship contest, they must also enter and exhibit those entries in the regular CJLA sanctioned classes offered for market lambs, market hogs, meat goats, steers or breeding heifers.
11. CJLA Policy regarding NSF checks or non-payment of membership dues for any reason: In cases where payment is not sent with a membership application or a check is returned by a bank for non-payment, the CJLA will notify the applicant and offer them one opportunity to provide valid payment by cash, money order, or acceptable check for current year membership. If second payment is either not received or not cleared by bank, membership will be canceled. Membership will be not be activated and points will not begin to accumulate until valid payment is received. In addition, valid payment must be received by March 31st. No Exceptions.
12. CODE OF ETHICS
Exhibitors are prohibited from showing unethically fitted livestock or livestock of an ineligible age for exhibition. Unethical fitting is deemed to mean any physical or physiological attempt to alter the natural conformation, musculature or weight of an animal. There will be no use of injections or ingested material not conducive to the continued health of the animal or marketability of its carcass. Animals showing, in the opinion of the judge or show management, signs of having been unethically fitted will be disqualified. Any inhumane or other inappropriate action to animals by the exhibitor will be cause for disqualification, forfeiture of awards and CJLA points, and removal of the exhibitor and exhibit from the show grounds.

In addition, CJLA members are expected to be honest in their ownership of animals as well as in entries of those animals at CJLA sanctioned shows. CJLA members are the elite of the showing and the junior livestock industry and are therefore expected and encouraged to uphold those high standards as an example to others.

Sanctioned Show Code of Ethics: CJLA sets a high standard for its junior members in regard to ethics and sportsmanship. Any show that commits to sanction a CJLA event is also expected to uphold the same standards and to set an example for our youth. The dedicated volunteers and officials who undertake the task of putting on a show, should do everything in their power to make the experience positive for everyone concerned. Care should be taken to prevent bias or favoritism toward any exhibitor by staff or judges and to hold an event in accordance to CJLA rules and format.

CJLA Rules and Regulations of Exhibition

Effective date and repeal: These rules and regulations shall become effective January 1st of each year, and thereupon all rules and regulations and parts thereof heretofore enforced are hereby repealed, except that the status of all registrations and records made upon previous rules shall remain unchanged.

The rules printed in this California Junior Livestock Association Official Rule Book shall be used at all approved CJLA (which includes the CSCA, CSLA, CSHA & CSGA) shows and contests unless otherwise approved by the president or the executive secretary of the California Junior Livestock Association.

Show Approval

1. Organizations or individuals wishing to stage or sponsor a show or contest and wishing to be sanctioned by the California Junior Livestock Association must obtain the prior approval of the CJLA, if the results of such show are to be entered into the Association's records and points are to be awarded to the exhibitors who place sufficiently high in their classes. Approval does not carry over from year to year, but must be obtained for each individual show or contest. Organizations or individuals wishing to sponsor a sanctioned CJLA show must sign and return a standard CJLA show contract at least sixty (60) days prior to the approved show. (See Rule #4). Deadline to sanction show for current year is March 31st. New shows must contact CJLA office 90 days prior to proposed show date.
Furthermore, any CJLA sanctioned show wishing to hold two (2) sanctioned shows during their event, must follow additional CJLA show guidelines as stated in "Guidelines for Shows" Rule #3).
2. Breed Association Shows (For Heifers Only) may be approved and sanctioned by the CJLA provided the shows are open to all junior members meeting the age requirements within the state. Points earned at these contests will be allowed to count towards the Heifer breed division standings, but they cannot be entered in to the All-Around standings for the year. CJLA members must also be a current paid member of the respective California Breed Association in order for those placings to count for CJLA points. Current year breed association membership dues must have been paid by March 31 of current year as stated in CJLA membership rules in order for those points to be counted.

3. To gain California Junior Livestock Association approval, a show must be open to show steer, show heifer, show lamb, show hog or show goat owners who meet the age requirements of those Divisions. Shows cannot limit entries as the CJLA accepts junior memberships from California and other states. A sanctioned show must be open to anyone who qualifies for CJLA junior membership.
4. The CJLA reserves the right to charge a sanctioning fee for approving sanctioned shows. The fee for the first year of sanctioning will be $125.00 per division for each sanctioned show. Yearly thereafter, the fee will be $70.00 per division. If a sanctioned show is dropped and then reinstated, the initial fee will revert to $125.00 for the first year of reinstatement. This fee is due and payable sixty (60) days prior to the show. The fee for California Breed Associations (Heifers) to sanction their Jr. Field Days will be $50.00 plus an additional $100.00 to have their own breed division within the CJLA. (Refer to Rule #2 above regarding points from breed association shows).
5. Show management MUST report their show results to the CJLA Association office within twenty-one (21) days after said show. Failure to mail the completed result forms to the Association in such time that they will be postmarked within TWENTY-ONE (21) days after the closing of show may result in approval being denied the following year. All show results MUST be typed in an acceptable format before submitting to CJLA office.
- 5a. ALL SANCTIONED SHOWS ARE REQUIRED TO SUBMIT COMPLETE AND ACCURATE RESULTS TO THE C.J.L.A. IN ADDITION, ALL SANCTIONED SHOWS ARE REQUIRED TO FOLLOW THE C.J.L.A. FORMAT FOR SHOWMANSHIP AGE DIVISIONS AND STEER DIVISIONS, AND TO ACCURATELY REPORT BREEDS OF ALL HEIFER ENTRIES. FAILURE TO DO SO WILL RESULT IN LOSS OF SANCTIONING FOR A PERIOD OF ONE YEAR. REINSTATEMENT FEES WILL REVERT TO FIRST YEAR SANCTIONING FEES.
6. The CJLA reserves the right to set up the CJLA booth at all sanctioned shows at no additional charge to the CJLA by said show. This booth may be used to sell CJLA merchandise, enroll members and distribute literature and publications.

Guidelines for Shows

The California Junior Livestock Association makes the following mandatory requirements and recommendations for CJLA shows.

1. The CJLA REQUIRES the steer divisions at approved shows be divided as follows: English; Black/Black X; & All Other Colors. (The English Division combines Angus, Hereford & Shorthorn steers. These steers MUST be purebred and eligible for registration according to those breed association requirements.) (Note: Any dispute arising at a sanctioned show regarding placing a steer in a specific breed division will be determined by show management. A representative of that breed association may be consulted for final determination. Their determination will be final.) The above "Steer Divisions" must be noted and divided as "Divisions" – not just as separate classes. The above "Steer Divisions" must be noted and divided as "Divisions" – not just as separate classes. Division Champions and Res. Division Champions must also be selected for English; Black/Black X; and All Other Colors. Intermediate division champions may also be awarded as determined by show management. (Ch. English Prospect steer; Ch. English Progress steer, etc)

- 1a. The CJLA offers heifer divisions for Angus; Hereford; Shorthorn; Maine-Anjou -includes Mainetainer; Limousin -includes Limflex; Charolais; and All Other Breeds. It is recommended that sanctioned heifer shows follow this format. Number of entries per breed may determine breaks whereby if there are 10 or more entries of one breed, then that breed will have its own division. All shows are required to list the breed of each heifer entry on results sent to the CJLA in order for CJLA to awards points correctly.
2. The CJLA recommends that sanctioned show steer, show lamb, show hog, and show goat shows have prospect, progress, and market divisions whenever entries and weight breaks make it possible.
- 2a. The CJLA requires that when any part of a show is separated into, and listed as, a “DIVISION, that a Division Champion AND Reserve Division Champion be selected. (example – Prospect division; English steer division, etc) CJLA members earn bonus points for these selections, therefore all shows must offer this opportunity to their exhibitors.
3. Any CJLA show sanctioning two (2) shows during their event is REQUIRED to offer a separate Showmanship Contest for EACH specie for EACH show.
- 3a. All CJLA Sanctioned Showmanship Contests for Lamb, Hog, and Goat Divisions are only open to Market Animals meeting the requirements for market entries. Breeding animals may not show in a CJLA Sanctioned Showmanship Contest for the above listed divisions. Grade/unregistered heifers are not eligible for CJLA showmanship points. Entries in Beef Showmanship contests must exhibit an animal in the division(s) in which they are a member in order for those points to be awarded.
- 3b. In order for a CJLA member to exhibit and earn points in a sanctioned CJLA showmanship contest, they must also enter and exhibit those entries in the regular CJLA sanctioned classes offered for market lambs, market hogs, meat goats, steers or breeding heifers.
4. The CJLA makes it mandatory that sanctioned shows report all results, awards and numbers through 8th place in each class/ division to CJLA for tabulation of points. Show results must be sent within 21 days following completion of shows. Show results must be typed before being sent to the CJLA office. It must be clearly noted on results as to which entries were awarded each division champion and reserve division championships, and all heifer breeds must be accurately listed.
5. The CJLA makes it mandatory that shows allow any exhibitor, age 9 - 19 for steer, sheep, hog, and goat divisions, and 9 - 21 for heifer divisions, to exhibit at all CJLA sanctioned shows.
6. The CJLA makes it mandatory that all sanctioned shows follow the CJLA age breaks for showmanship. These breaks are as follows: 9 - 12; 13 - 15; 16 - 19 (21 if showing heifers). Age of exhibitor is as of January 1st of current year.
7. CJLA sanctioned shows which have made a mistake in reporting their results, must report any corrections or additions or changes to those results within 60 days of the time that those results are reported in the Pacific Showcase.
8. The California Junior Livestock Association reserves the right to not sanction an organization’s show for the following year if that organization has violated or ignored any of the current rules and regulations while producing their show during the current year. (see Rule 5a. above)

9. No sanctioned show may withhold points unless the member is in violation of CJLA or their show rules. They may withhold premium money only if they have advertised such rules ahead of time. (Example: A show that does not advertise that all breed and reserve breed champions must stay for the champion drive may not withhold an exhibitors points if they leave, when the show has not advertised that rule.)
10. Any sanctioned show allowing animals to be exhibited for someone who is not in attendance, must report to the CJLA that that person was not there to show his/her own animals. CJLA Rules state that a member must show his/her own animals at any sanctioned show in order to be awarded those points for that event. (See #3 below) Shows must report to CJLA any problems that would affect a member receiving points.

Additional Mandatory Guidelines and Information:

1. Each member of the CJLA entered in the Heifer Division must also be a member of the California Junior Breed Association of the animal(s) they are exhibiting in order to earn points in that CJLA heifer breed division. Junior exhibitors must also provide proof of ownership that animals are registered in their name with the appropriate breed association. If the Junior Breed Association membership requirement is not met, points earned will fall into the All Other Breeds division. California Breed Association dues must be paid by March 31st of current year to qualify for CJLA points. All heifers entered and exhibited by CJLA members at sanctioned shows must be registered in the exhibitors name and registration papers verified by show officials.
2. Any member of the CJLA exhibiting steers in the English Steer Division may only show purebred animals that meet the breed association requirements for registration. Otherwise, those animals must be exhibited in the Black/Black X or All Other Colors division. Additional membership in the California Breed Association is not required for exhibitors of English steers.
 - 2a. Note that black steers with over 30% white markings or blue roan in color will show in the All Other Color Division.
3. CJLA junior exhibitors must be in attendance and show their own animal(s) entered at any CJLA sanctioned show in order for points to be awarded. The only exception to this rule would be if exhibitor has more than one animal entered in the same class, in which case another junior exhibitor may show the additional entry. CJLA sanctioned shows should enforce this rule and report any variances to the CJLA. (See #9 above).
4. Exhibitor has the option to attend any numbers of shows. However, points earned at top eight shows attended will count toward year-end totals. If exhibitor attends and places at more than eight shows in the given year, lowest show points will be dropped with the top eight show points counting for year-end totals.

Points will be awarded to each CJLA member in the following manner for year-end totals.

Sheep, Hogs, Goats: Points will be awarded on top two placing animals at each show. (Exhibitor may show as many animals as desired at any given show - however, only the top two placings will be counted.) These points earned will go toward year-end totals in each age division as well as the overall placings in each specie. Showmanship points are not figured into year-end totals or overall placings but will be totaled as separate award divisions by exhibitor age.

Steers, Heifers: CJLA members may exhibit in as many breed or color divisions as desired in which those requirements have been met and will earn points in these individual divisions for year-end awards. Points from top two placings in each of the breed or color divisions will count for division points. However, only your top two placings overall per show will count toward the overall winner placings in the steer division and the heifer division. (Please note under Rule 4 - Show Approval - that points earned at Association field days will only count in heifer breed divisions - not in the over-all year-end totals). Showmanship points are not figured into year-end totals or overall placings but will be totaled as a separate award division by exhibitor age.

5. In the case of a tie in any division (except showmanship), the tie will be broken by the number of CJLA sanctioned shows attended where any points have been earned in that division. If there is still a tie, the exhibitors' showmanship points (in same specie) will be determined as the final tie-breaker.

If there is a tie in any showmanship division, the tie will be broken by the number of CJLA shows attended where any points have been earned in showmanship (in same specie). If there is still a tie, the number of overall division points (in same specie) will be used to determine the final tiebreaker.

6. CJLA Policy regarding NSF checks or non-payment of membership dues for any reason: In cases where payment is not sent with a membership application or a check is returned by a bank for non-payment, the CJLA will notify the applicant and offer one opportunity for them to provide valid payment by cash, money order, or acceptable check for current year membership. If second payment is either not received or not cleared by bank, membership will be canceled. Membership will not be activated and points will not begin to accumulate until valid payment is received. In addition, valid payment must be received by March 31st. No Exceptions.

7. Exhibitor Code of Ethics: Exhibitors are prohibited from showing unethically fitted livestock or livestock of an ineligible age for exhibition. Unethical fitting is deemed to mean any physical or physiological attempt to alter the natural conformation, musculature or weight of an animal. There will be no use of injections or ingested material not conducive to the continued health of the animal or marketability of its carcass. Animals showing, in the opinion of the judge or show management, signs of having been unethically fitted will be disqualified. Any inhumane or other inappropriate action to animals by the exhibitor will be cause for disqualification, forfeiture of awards and CJLA points, and removal of the exhibitor and exhibit from the show grounds. In addition, CJLA members are expected to be honest in their ownership of animals as well as in entries of those animals at CJLA sanctioned shows. CJLA members are the elite of the show-ring and junior livestock industry and are therefore expected and encouraged to uphold to those high standards as an example to others.

8. Sanctioned Show Code of Ethics: CJLA sets a high standard for its junior members in regard to ethics and sportsmanship. Any show that commits to sanction a CJLA event is also expected to uphold the same standards and to set an example for our youth. The dedicated volunteers and officials who undertake the task of putting on a show, should do everything in their power to make the experience positive for everyone concerned. Care should be taken to prevent bias or favoritism toward any exhibitor by staff or judges and to hold an event in accordance to CJLA rules and format.

Section 2. Exhibitor Code of Ethics: Exhibitors are prohibited from showing unethically fitted livestock or livestock of an ineligible age for exhibition. Unethical fitting is deemed to mean any physical or physiological attempt to alter the natural conformation, musculature or weight of an animal. There will no use of injections or ingested material not conducive to the continued health of the animal or marketability of its carcass. Animals showing, in the opinion of the judge or show management, signs of having been unethically fitted will be disqualified. Any inhumane or other inappropriate action to animals by the exhibitor will be cause for disqualification, forfeiture of awards and CJLA points, and removal of the exhibitor and exhibit from the show grounds.

In addition, CJLA members are expected to be honest in their ownership of animals as well as in entries of those animals at CJLA sanctioned shows. CJLA members are the elite of the showing and junior livestock industry and are therefore expected and encouraged to uphold to those high standard as an example to others.

Sanctioned Show Code of Ethics: CJLA sets a high standard for its junior members in regard to ethics and sportsmanship. Any show that commits to sanction a CJLA event is also expected to uphold the same standards and to set an example for our youth. The dedicated volunteers and officials who undertake the task of putting on a show, should do everything in their power to make the experience positive for everyone concerned. Care should be taken to prevent bias or favoritism toward any exhibitor by staff or judges and to hold an event in accordance to CJLA rules and format.
